LAW AS DATA · SAMPLE ARTICLE

Cybersecurity as a matter of professional duty

2026-08-13 · A Kenyan advocate

Confidentiality in a digital practice depends on more than good intentions. We consider proportionate safeguards, incident preparedness and the professional responsibilities that accompany connected legal work.

Sample article — for demonstration only.

Safeguarding confidence

Legal professionals hold sensitive information. Technical safeguards should be supported by clear procedures and regular staff training.

- Review access permissions.
- Prepare an incident response programme.
- Practise recovery procedures.

For general information and academic discussion only. Not legal advice.